You can register for an employer account at australiansuper.com/employer

What's a USI?

A Unique Superannuation Identifier, or USI, is a number used to identify super funds and individual super fund products for electronic rollovers and contributions. A super fund may have one USI, or it may have a USI for each product.

AustralianSuper's USI is:
Industry Division USI: STA0100AU

You can find your USI on a recent contribution statement.

Fund relationships

The purpose of creating fund relationships in QuickSuper is to:

- Store the relationship information between an employer and a fund (e.g. Fund Employer ID provided by the super fund to identify your business).
- Define the superannuation funds that your business has a default fund relationship with. This will make it easier to register employees in QuickSuper as well as determine the types of SuperStream messages sent to the fund.

If you have a single employer facility, follow these steps to create and view your fund relationships:

1. Click Administration on the QuickSuper main menu.
2. Click Fund Relationships.
3. The 'Fund Relationships' page shows the current fund relationships for this employer.
4. To add a new fund relationship, click Create New Relationship. You will be asked to input the fund's information and your Fund Employer ID. Check the Default Fund box to determine whether this is a default fund.
5. To edit existing fund relationships already established, select the fund using the radio button and click View Details and then click Edit.

If you have a multiple employer facility, you'll need to assign fund relationships to each employer. QuickSuper will ask you to establish fund relationships at the time of creating the employer.

Once you have created the employer, follow these steps to view the fund relationships details:

1. Click View Employers on the QuickSuper main menu.
2. Select the radio button to the left of the employer you wish to view then click View Details.
3. On the 'Employer Details' page, select the Fund Relationships tab.
4. The 'Fund Relationships' page shows the current fund relationships for this employer.

To edit existing fund relationships already established, select the fund using the radio button and click View Details and then click Edit.

To add a new fund relationship, click Create New Relationship. You will be asked to input the fund's information and your Fund Employer ID. Check the Default Fund box to determine whether this is a default fund.

Note: The Fund Employer ID is an identifier that a fund may allocate to an employer. The employer is then expected to provide this ID when submitting employee contributions to the fund. Some funds may refer to the Fund Employer ID as an 'employer ID' or a 'plan code'.

How to add new account users and authority levels

You can add account users and assign them different authority levels:

1. Select Administration.
2. Select Users.
3. Select Create New User.
4. Enter a login name for the new user.
5. Enter their full name and email address.
6. Select the 'User Rights' you want them to have.
7. Verify the new user, then enter your password and Save.

How to add self-managed super funds

If any of your employees manage their own super, you'll need to add their self-managed super fund (SMSF) ABN, bank details, ESA* and email address to your account:

1. Below the Funds tab select Create Fund.
2. Enter the ABN to generate their SMSF's details (the fund must have an active ABN to use QuickSuper).
3. Select Next.
4. Complete SMSF account and banking details.
5. You'll need to create a unique Fund ID and enter the ESA for your employee's SMSF.
6. When all details have been entered, click Save.
7. With the SMSF's USI number created at Step 5 above, follow the manual entry steps below to link the SMSF to the employee's fund details.

What's an ESA?

An electronic service address (ESA) is a special internet address of a messaging provider that is used by a SMSF. It is different to an email address.

An ESA can be obtained from a SMSF messaging provider or through a SMSF administrator, tax agent, accountant or bank at no cost or low cost.

1. Click the Employers tab at the bottom left hand side of the screen.
2. Select View Employers.
3. Select the employer name (click on the employer's name in blue).
4. Click Fund Relationships.
5. Click Create New Relationship.

10. Click Confirm.

How to add default fund employees

1. Click the Employees tab, then select View Employees.
2. Click Create New Employee, enter in all details that have a green star (*), including mobile number and email address, then Save.
3. On the fund membership page, select Use Default Fund, then select I don't have a member ID for this employee's fund.
4. Click Next and Confirm.

What's the difference between Employer ID, Client ID and Fund Employer ID?

An Employer ID is a unique number identifier you create in QuickSuper when you have a Multiple Employer Facility. You will have separate Employer IDs for each business.

A Client ID is a unique number created for your business when you register a QuickSuper account. It always starts with the letters AU in front of the number. This is the number you use when you need to contact us about your QuickSuper account.

A Fund Employer ID is a unique number allocated by superannuation funds to your business. You have separate Fund Employer IDs with each super fund you register with.

* The employee is responsible for providing you with their electronic service address (ESA) for their SMSF. Each SMSF must have an ESA. For more information on ESAs visit ato.gov.au

How to add employee information manually

The manual entry option usually suits employers with less than 40 employees. You only need to add each employee once into QuickSuper and edit their details anytime.

This option has two steps. First, you add your employees directly into QuickSuper, either manually or by uploading a spreadsheet. Once this is done, you then schedule their super payments.

To add manually:

1. Below the Employees tab, select View Employees.
2. Select Create New Employee.
3. Enter your employee's details, including mobile number and email address.
4. Create a Payroll ID for the employee and Save.
5. Select your default fund or enter your employee's nominated fund using the USI number of the fund.
6. In Actions, assign the above fund to the current employee.
7. Add the employee's super fund member number, or select I don't have a member ID for this employee's fund and Save.
8. Repeat this process for each employee.

To add by uploading a spreadsheet:

1. Below the Employees tab, select Upload Employees.
2. Download a file template from the link Learn more about the employee upload process.
3. Add your employee information to the file template.
4. Save it.
5. Browse and click Upload File. If your status shows 'error', click View Detailed Report, amend your file and upload again.
6. When successful, Confirm details.

Multiple employers

If you're a multiple employer, you will also need to select the relevant Employer in each case.

How to make a payment

You can make your super payments within QuickSuper by either uploading a contribution file or by manual entry.

How to pay super by direct entry

1. Select Online Contributions.
2. Select Create New. You can then either choose your default super amount for the employee's super contributions, or start with zero amounts if no default option.
3. Choose the contribution period and select Next.
4. Enter the payment amount(s) for all employees, including the Super Guarantee Contribution (SGC) amount, any salary sacrifice or additional amounts if applicable.
5. Check the payment amounts and member details are correct.
6. Save and go to summary.
7. Click Submit.
8. Check the total amount of your contribution is correct.
9. Confirm the submission for file processing.
10. Your EFT details will show on the next screen.

To make a payment from your online account, use the details listed under Payment Details, which includes the Account Name, Reference and BSB number. If you make a payment before 4pm AEST on a business day, the money will be transferred the next business day.

How to pay super by file upload

This method of payment is suitable for businesses that use a payroll system. This option adds your employees' information and schedules their super payments at the same time.

To upload a contribution file, you need to use a CSV file formatted to meet the Government's data standards.

When preparing your file, make sure:

- the format of the data and columns match the required data specifications (see page 14)
- the data is always saved and uploaded as a CSV file ONLY.

If you don't follow the specifications, the file won't upload to QuickSuper.

1. Run your payroll system and output the data as a CSV file.
2. Open the file in Microsoft Excel.
3. Make sure the format of the data and columns matches our specifications and reformat them if necessary, OR copy and paste the required data into the relevant columns in our CSV file template. Download the file from australiansuper.com/PaySuper
4. Save your contribution file in CSV format.
5. To upload your file to QuickSuper, go to Contribution Files then choose Upload File. Browse and upload.

File upload success

A successful upload will show the status as 'New'. This means your contribution data has been accepted. Once confirmed the status will show as 'Authorised' and super payments are scheduled to go.

If there's a problem with your file the status shows 'Error'. When this happens, download the Error Report and use this information to edit your CSV file. Then delete the old file from QuickSuper and upload your amended contribution file.

Member ID data and file conversion from Excel to CSV

Are you using Excel to create your CSV file? You may have problems with USIs and Member IDs that are long numeric values.

Excel may convert these into a scientific notation when you save your file to a CSV format.

To avoid this, prefix the Member ID with a hash (#) symbol. QuickSuper will remove the hash symbol before storing and passing to a fund.

EFT payments

Your EFT details and reference number will display on screen.

Employer SGC

The Employer Super Guarantee Contributions (SGC) minimum is currently 10.5% paid on top of salary or wage payments.

Setting up your CSV file

Only CSV files formatted correctly, which include the Government's legislated data standards, can be uploaded into QuickSuper.

The easiest way to ensure your CSV file is compliant is to download the template in QuickSuper in the QuickSuper Downloads section.

If you decide to create your own CSV file, you need to make sure you exactly match the specifications in the table on the following pages.

To ensure your file successfully uploads, you must:

- follow the column order
- follow the formats
- save the file in CSV format.

Get the QuickSuper CSV troubleshooting guide

1. Log into your QuickSuper account.
2. Choose the Downloads tab.
3. Download the QuickSuper Contribution CSV File Specification.

- Member Registration Request (MRR) – this is a standard compliant message informing the Fund of either a new member to their fund or changes to the details of an existing member of the fund.
